

Resources: All relevant resources including lecture notes, recitation worksheets, homework and exam answer keys will be posted on the course's Canvas page under the _____ tab, however, the most valuable resource is the student's own set of written notes.

Required materials: All students are expected to attend class equipped with a set of writing instruments and a calculator (NOT a cellphone). Acceptable examples of writing instruments include pens or pencils with a notebook, or a tablet with a smart stylus. While laptops are permitted for viewing posted materials, they will NOT be suitable for meaningful note taking.

Optional materials: The University provides virtual access to the textbook supplementing the course via the _____ tab on the Canvas page at a discounted price. Should the student plan to use a paper copy instead, they need to make sure to opt out by the deadline to avoid any unwanted charges. The textbook is considered merely a supplementary material for this course, and thus its use will not make up for a lack of attendance or insufficient notes. Note that since owning the textbook is optional, older editions are also permitted which can be accessed at a significantly lower price point.

Grading

The weights for the final grade are as follows:

- The three best midterm exams: 15% each, in total 45%
- Homework completion: 10%
- Two randomly selected homework assignments graded for correctness: 10%
- Recitation: 10%
- Final exam: 25%.

Late submissions are not accepted in any form, under any circumstances and will result in an automatic zero grade for the assignment. Make-up exams are not given. If the student misses a midterm exam, that exam automatically becomes the lowest, and as such dropped. If a student needs to miss an additional exam due to extenuating circumstances the weight of that exam is automatically distributed between the remaining two exams. Any further missed exam will result in an automatic zero grade. Missing the final exam will also result in an automatic zero grade. Note that once an exam is started, it counts towards the final grade and the student cannot opt out later!

PREFERRED STUDENT NAMES AND PRONOUNS

CU Boulder recognizes that students' legal information doesn't always align with how they identify. Students may update their preferred names and pronouns via the student portal; those preferred names and pronouns are listed on instructors' class rosters. In the absence of such updates, the name that appears on the class roster is the student's legal name.
