

ECON 4514100: Economic History of Europe

Dr. Nicole V. Jobin

University of Colorado Education 155

Summer Term A, 2014M-F 12:45-2:20

Email: Nicole.Jobin@Colorado.edu

CourseWebsite: <https://learn.colorado.edu>

Office: Sewall Hall: 267(303-492-3555)

Office Hours: M & Th 11:30-12:30 and most days after class by appointment

Accessing Electronic Copies of Readings

All of the reading material not found in your main textbooks can be accessed through the course D2L site (<https://learn.colorado.edu> see more information below). You may also look for articles using the library's journal finder, <http://ucblibraries.colorado.edu/research/journalfinder.htm> Type in the name of the to them and they will explain theirs to you. By the end of class, you should have all the pieces of information necessary to answer a question about a particular issue all articles address thus the name Jigsaw. Instructions and a grading rubric for these assignments are posted on D2L.

Norlin Special Collections Assignment: On Wednesday June 17th, we will meet in Norlin Library in the Center for British and Irish Studies (5th floor). We will see items held in Special Collections and Government Documents that pertain to the subject of our course and you will have a paper assignment to complete concerning a particular item of your choice. There will be time during class to do preliminary research using the items from Special Collections and Government Documents for this short paper.

University and Class Policies

Classroom Courtesy: Come to class on time with readings prepared. Turn off cell phones and disconnect from Facebook, Twitter and other social media. This class requires a collaborative class effort on behalf of all of the students and I ask that you give your attention to whoever is speaking and to whatever task in which we are engaged. Disruptive or disrespectful behavior may be grounds for loss of credit or academic sanctions. I reserve the right to ask you to turn off your laptop, tablet, or smartphone if it appears to be a distraction. Please see University policy (<http://www.colorado.edu/policies/student-classroom-and-course-related-behavior>).

Attendance and Policy on Late Assignments: You are responsible for all material presented in class including announcements about readings, discussion, and assignments. Attendance will be taken randomly and during group activities such as the presentations or the Jigsaw assignment days (see more below). There are no make up points for these class activities. If you miss class, you miss the points. For the midterms, presentations and written assignments to receive full credit, they must be turned in on time unless you provide documentation of severe illness or other certifiable emergencies.

E-mail: All e-mail communication for the class is sent through the CU@ system. If you want to receive email through Yahoo, Gmail, Comcast, etc., you are responsible for setting up your CU account to forward email to your non

6/12

Joint Stocks

Jigsaw #4 Read Carlos, Key, and Dupre

	Library Paper Due on D2L by 11:59 p.m.in Word or PDF formatf you use pages, please save to PDF or .docx format before uploading to D2Ls drop box. Each essay should be no than three double spaced pages.
6/30	European Economy inthe Early 20 ^h c. Group #10: Bernanke- The Macroeconomics of the Great Depresion: A Comparative Approach(Journal of Money, Credit and Banking, 1995) All read: Broadberry and Burhop Real Wages and Labor Productivity in Britain and Germa 1871-1938: A Unified Approach to the International Comparison of Living Standards of