COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course introduces the students to the study of modern macroeconomics theory. The course focuses on both the theoretical and numerical analysis of general equilibrium dynamic model, with a particular focus on the neoclassical growth model.

The course starts with the study of dynamic programming. This part of the course focuses on the theoretical features of dynamic models. In this context, we study in great details the first five chapters of Recursive Methods in Economic Dynamics, by Stokey, Lucas and Prescott. Over the course, we use dynamic programming to study the neoclassical growth model. When possible (not very often), we will learn how to find a solution by hand. When not possible, we will rely on numerical methods.

The second section of the course, introduces frictions in a standard Ryt

EVALUATION

Your final grade is determined as a weighted average among Midterm I (30%) and Final Exam (70%). Midterm and final exam are closed notes and books. No make-up tests will be given. Problem sets will be regularly assigned to cover the class material or explore other topics. You are required to work in group to complete the assignments. The group consists of 3/4 people that are formed in the first week of classes. Problem sets are submitted, one version per group as indicated in the Chronogram (see section below). Late assignments will not be accepted.

Assessment	Date	%
Midterm I	3/21/24	30%
Final Exam	Wednesday, May 8, 4:30-7pm	70%

UNIVERSITY POLICIES

You should familiarize yourself with the following University of Colorado policies.

CLASSROOM BEHAVIOR

Students and faculty are responsible for maintaining an appropriate learning environment in all instructional settings, whether in person, remote, or online. Failure to adhere to such behavioral standards may be subject to discipline. Professional courtesy and sensitivity are especially important with respect to individuals and topics dealing with race, color, national origin, sex, pregnancy, age, disability, creed, religion, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, veteran status, political affiliation, or political philosophy. For more information, see the classroom behavior policy, the Student Code of Conduct, and the Office of Institutional Equity and Compliance.

REQUIREMENTS FOR INFECTIOUS DISEASE

Members of the CU Boulder community and visitors to campus must follow university, department, and

HONOR CODE

All students enrolled in a University of Colorado Boulder course are responsible for knowing and adhering to the Honor Code. Violations of the Honor Code may include but are not limited to: plagiarism (including use of paper writing services or technology [such as essay bots]), cheating, fabrication, lying, bribery, threat, unauthorized access to academic materials, clicker fraud, submitting the same or similar work in more than one course without permission from all course instructors involved, and aiding academic dishonesty. All incidents of academic misconduct will be reported to Student Conduct & Conflict Resolution: honor@colorado.edu, 303-492-5550. Students found responsible for violating the Honor Code will be assigned resolution outcomes from the Student Conduct & Conflict Resolution as well as be subject to academic sanctions from the faculty member. Visit Honor Code for more information on the academic integrity policy.

SEXUAL MISCONDUCT, DISCRIMINATION, HARASSMENT AND/OR RELATED RETALIATION

CU Boulder is committed to fostering an inclusive and welcoming learning, working, and living environment. University policy prohibits protected-class discrimination and harassment, sexual misconduct (harassment, exploitation, and assault), intimate partner violence (dating or domestic violence), stalking, and related retaliation by or against members of our community on- and off-campus. These behaviors harm individuals and our community. The Office of Institutional Equity and Compliance (OIEC) addresses these concerns, and individuals who have been subjected to misconduct can contact OIEC at
