

Kyle Armstrong, magna cum laude

The effects of biological fathers leaving during childhood and biological mothers' ability to shield their child's educational attainment

William B. Belliveau, magna cum laude

How the principal-agent problem affects energy consumption in the commercial sector

Timothy Demus, cum laude

The impact of foreign direct investment on institutional quality in host countries

Colin Desmond, magna cum laude

Real exchange rate misalignment and its macroeconomic implications: Panel evidence from Sub-Saharan Africa, 1990-2009

Paul Fornia, magna cum laude

Subjectivity, cardinality and endogeneity in the economic study of income vs. life satisfaction

Sean Grover, summa cum laude

Finite sample performance of semiparametric binary choice estimators

Matthew Hoops, summa cum laude

Inequality and growth: Mixed results and ever improving data

Alexander Mikhaylov, summa cum laude

The impact of alphabetism on socioeconomic indicators throughout the lifecycle

Nathaniel Neligh, summa cum laude

The impact of conflict on grain market integration in Northern China during the late Qing Period

Tyler Oberlander, cum laude

Economic outcomes and political trust: A study of state legitimacy

Collin Pitmon, magna cum laude

The healthcare hydraulic revisited: cost shifting and the case of California

David Shin, summa cum laude

How does the paper-bill spread respond to a monetary shock?

Susanna Wang, summa cum laude

Maternal employment considerations in measuring intergenerational income elasticity

Nicholas Williams, summa cum laude

The development of China's fixed income market and its impact on corporate debt issuance

Nina Zabolotnaya, magna cum laude

The trade-off between employee sponsored health insurance and employee compensation